for the name

Juicy Words

This certificate guarantees that the above name was created and checked by the Namefruits Naming-KI especially for your project. You will receive the unrestricted transferable rights to this name and can use it as you wish. The name is reserved for you personally and will not be suggested to anyone else.

01/01/70 Namefruits

The Namefruits checks and evaluations are for orientation and research purposes only. All check results are without guarantee and in no way replace professional legal advice. It is the user's responsibility to seek expert advice, e.g. from a lawyer, before using the name.

The Namefruits guarantee assures the user that Namefruits will no longer suggest the name to another user. Namefruits will also not assert any claims against the user for the name created. The guarantee does not apply to any rights of third parties to the name. Here, too, it is the user's responsibility to have the name checked in a legally secure and expert manner, e.g. by a lawyer, before using it.

Composition

Words used to make up your name:

Specifics

This name comes from an animal not specifically related to your project. Animals are however often used as names, as they usually have interesting characteristics that can radiate onto a brand or a company. Many well-known small and larger companies are named after an animal. Animal names are timeless and can be used universally.

Name Checks

Find out how well your name is suited for business use and how good its marketing opportunities are. Namefruits has thoroughly evaluated your name to this end.

Namefruits Expert Score

The Namefruits Expert Score lets you see at a glance how suitable your result is for use as a name. The Naming AI uses a specially developed algorithm to perform an internal suitability evaluation.

This evaluation takes into account a variety of linguistic factors, e.g. name lengths and vowel to consonant ratio.

100%

Made just for you factor

Namefruits has come to know you pretty well through the questions you've answered and has evaluated your name based on this data. The higher the value, the more the proposal matches your personal name preferences.

100%

Trademark availability (comprehensive)

For you to use your name successfully, it is important to ensure that no one else already holds the rights to it. Similar names can also lead to legal complications. Namefruits has checked whether your suggested name or a similar word is already registered as a trademark in order to provide you with a comprehensive overview of the trademark availability.

Scope of protection	registered	filed	expired	cancelled	unknown
European Union	No trademarks relating to this scope of protection were found. Please note that e.g. similar trademarks may also endanger the use of a name. Therefore, before using your name for business, first read the trademark FAQ and seek advice from a lawyer.

Sound Impact Check

The Sound Impact check validates the proposed name for a variety of sound qualities and gives an overview of associations that the name can trigger by the way it sounds. These checks should be understood as a subjective assessment of the name, created by an artificial intelligence. As such, they should not be taken as an objective truth. However, they do give an assessment of how the name sounds, and that assessment is useful for guidance purposes.

Register

This check pertains to the vowel quality and reveals how low or high the name sounds overall.

The vowels lend the name a dark, heavy sound. This makes it especially suitable for use in serious, professional projects or for male or adult target groups.

Sound classifications

This check pertains to the consonant quality and reveals how hard or soft the name sounds overall.

The consonants in this name produce a hard sound. This makes it very good for use in subject areas such as technology, industry, software, innovations and B2B in general (but not only.)

Suffix type

This check pertains to how the last letter influences the overall effect of the name. This factor is not as essential to the subjective assessment of the word as the sound classification and register, but it can be what tips the scales when deciding how well the name suits the project.

masculine feminine

childlike

neutral

The ending of this name does not evoke any particular associations. This makes it suitable as an all-purpose name or for mixed target groups.

Word tension

This check pertains to how much the sounds in the name differ from one another.

relaxed

tense

The sounds in this name have a neutral tension level. This makes it well-suited as an all-purpose name or for mixed target groups.

Special characteristics

This check examines the interplay of consonants and vowels in the name in order to make a subjective overall evaluation. Very few names produce any notable results in this check. This is one such name, which makes it quite special!

melodic

distinctive intense

cosy

The combination of hard consonants and dark vowels in this name produces a distinctive, dominant sound. A confident name for a top-tier project!

Search engine placement

The more seldom your name already appears on the Internet, the easier it is for you to place it online and the more quickly it can be found. Namefruits has therefore checked to see how often your name already appears as search result in the usual search engines. The rarer your name, the better.
